

Wasted Thoughts

Text: Julia Engstfeld, Musik: Hanf im Glück

Do I not deserve your love, I think I'm just not good enough
I guess you'd imagine someone better than me, but the one who doesn't try can't judge!
The time with you was just my spring after cold winter days
The time after you've gone felt to me like a second ice age

Without you life is cruel, there is no doubt, without you life is cruel!

And when I come home, nobody's waiting!
Please leave me alone! That's just what I am!

I would have given anything to see your shining smile again
Only you can calm my soul, remember when the love began!
You never gave me what I need, but still I even cry
I'm hoping that the day will come when my pain just passes by!

Without you life is cruel ...

And when I come home ...
